IN MEMORY

of Mrs. Kathleen Leonard who suddenly passed away during her second year of teaching here at Nauset. We will always remember her in our hearts by her enormous contributions to the literary magazine "Cross Currents" and her excellent job teaching writing and literature. Mrs. Leonard always kept her good humor both in and out of the classroom, and the memory of her as both a teacher and a friend will always be with us.

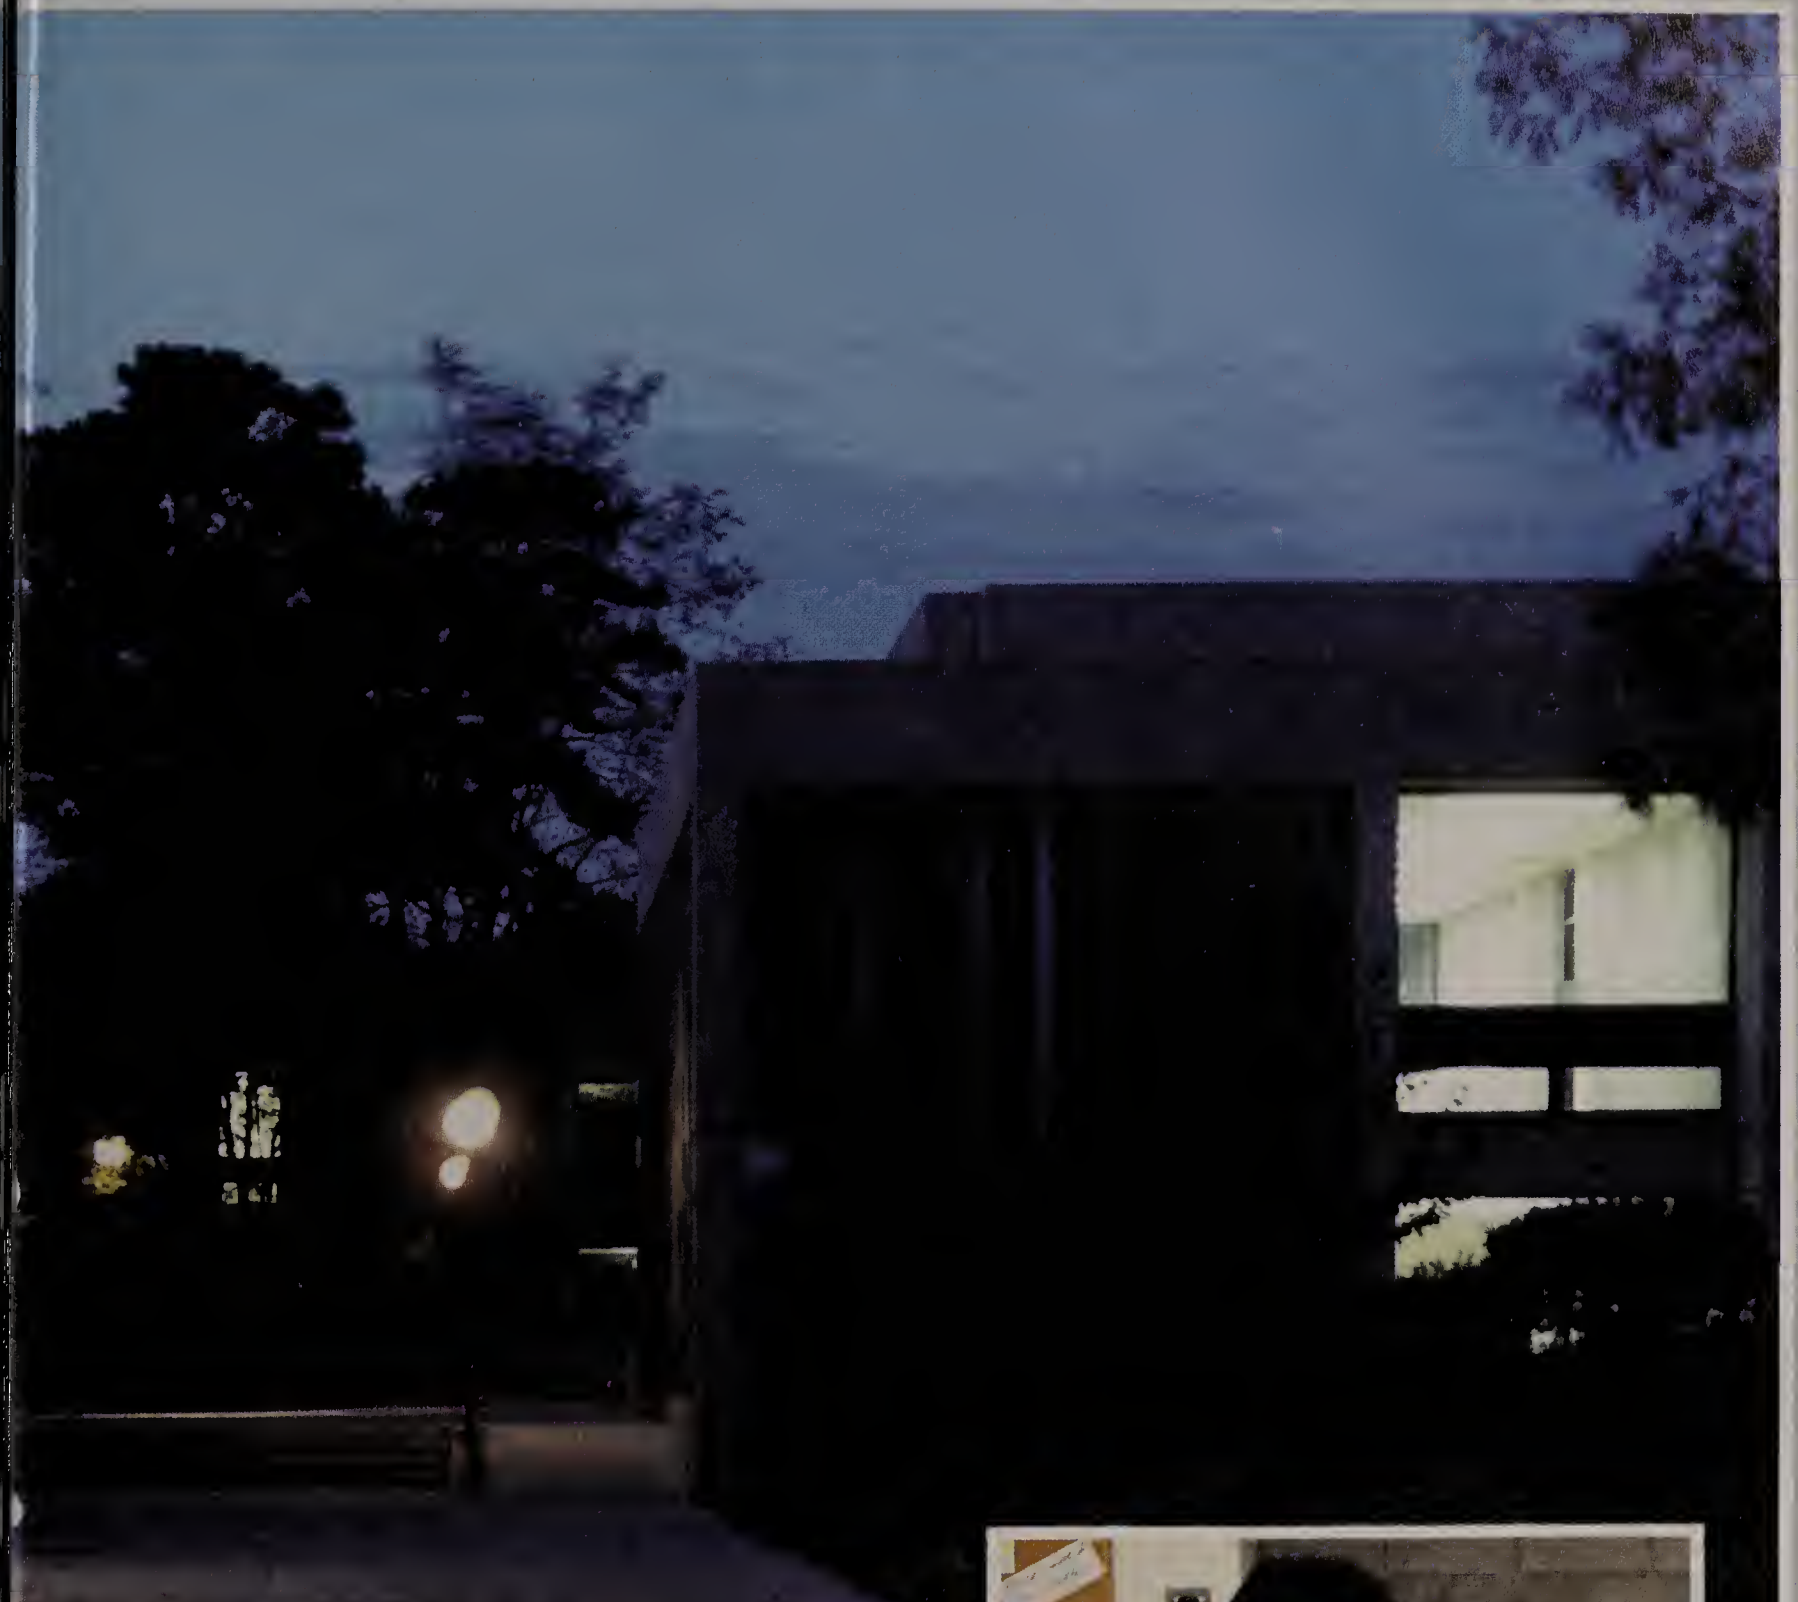

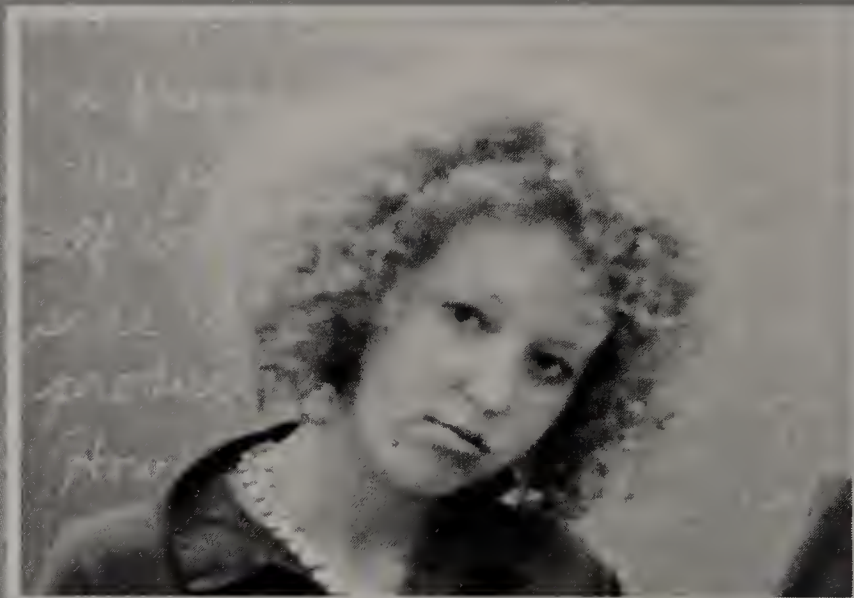

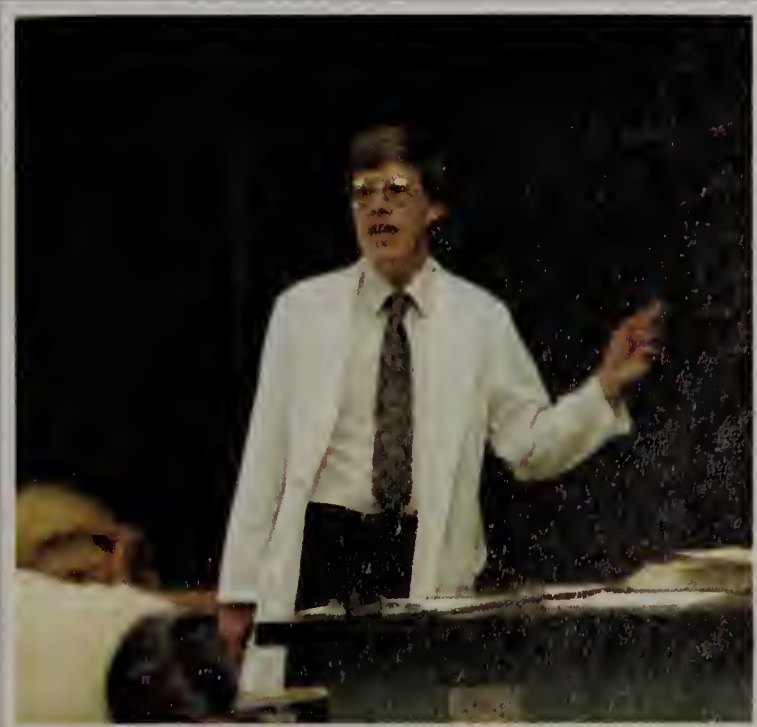

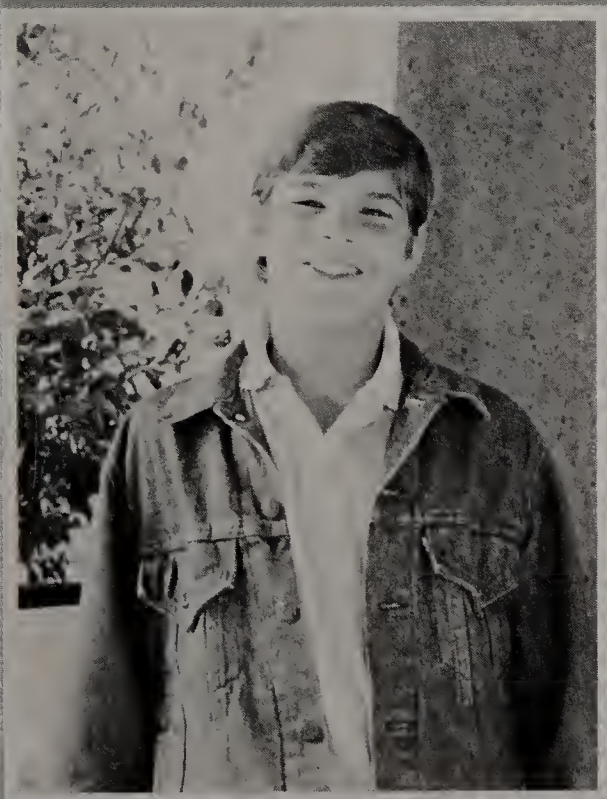

DEDICATION

The Class of 1987 dedicates this yearbook to Mrs. Diane Campbell. Mrs. Campbell has stayed with us through thick and thin. We thank her for all the weekends that she sacrificed to chaperone the proms and manage our class "fund-raisers." Furthermore we appreciate all the classes she missed to work at the graduation ceremonies. For her encouragement, guidance, good humor, and dedication, we thank her.

CLASS HISTORY

Freshman year began in September of '83. We all shared the thrill and excitement of beginning high school, as well as the fear of what was ahead of us. Through the Halloween and Christmas dances, car washes and bake sales (the traditional freshman fund raisers), and of course the teasing by upperclassmen, we were introduced to the spirit of what high school was all about.

With Sophomore year came the feeling of relief - we were no longer the little guys! The traditional magazine drive was our first big responsibility as a class. As we were confronted with more and more responsibilities we proceeded to grow and discover our individual talents through academics, sports, and music. Again, we kept busy attending the Halloween and Christmas dances, and decorating for graduation. Nauset was introduced to a S.A.D.D. chapter, and the Eldia grounded at Nauset Beach in March which was an exciting surprise for all. A Toga dance and the play "Bye Bye Birdie" brought spring quickly around the corner.

In September of '85 we were finally upperclassmen - Junior year! We began to notice "how small the freshmen are." This year brought record-breaking changes in faculty, along with Mr. Ballerino and Mr. Markovich. The change was refreshing and brought many new ideas to Nauset. Adjusting to the new discipline policy (DD,OD, and ISS - "the Box") was the topic of conversation. SAT prep. courses became popular in Math and English classes and two newspapers were started: The Bellator and The Underground. Many of us began driving to school which was a thrill - no more bus rides! Prom '86 on May 10th was the largest in Nauset's history - 340! Decorating for graduation was more exciting than ever, knowing that next year would be our turn.

Before we knew it, it was September '86 - we were finally seniors! Nauset's first Annual Homecoming in October brought more enthusiasm and spirit to Nauset than ever before. The first event was a parade through Orleans (in the pouring rain) which led to the girls' soccer game. The next day consisted of the boys soccer game and that night was the Homecoming Dance where the Queen (Amy Squire) and King (Bob Bernard) were crowned. This year's five foreign exchange students shared their cultures from all around the world. Smoking privileges were taken away, which influenced high schools across the Cape. College applications and deadlines and searching for jobs demanded most of our time. The Senior Banquet and Prom '87 were a successful ending to our social activities. Graduation on June 7, 1987, was the grand finale to our high school career. This was our last day as a class, but the friendships and memories we've made will never be forgotten. I wish everyone in the class of '87 the best of luck and to enter the "real world" with pride and confidence.

OOPS!

Hey! Despite popular belief, we are human, and in fact, we do make mistakes.

January 9, 1987-5:30p.m. These are the facts. Take them as you may: an innocent unidentified envelope is discovered while straightening the office. Underclassmen layout was finished, or so we thought. But little did we know, lurking deep within the contents of the ominous envelope were eleven homeless underclassmen photos. We could not bear to throw yet another one away.

"AAAAARRGH!!!!", said Mr. Donahue.

"Don't tell me, I don't want to know," replied Briggy.

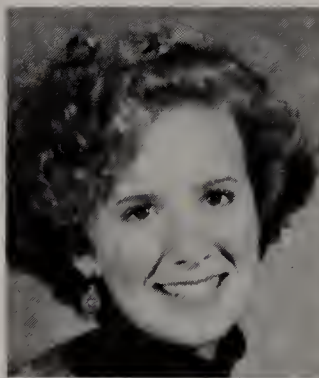

"Anyone got a match?" inquired Mr. Donahue.

"UH-OH, you're not going to burn anymore photos, are you?", said Betsy.

"But we already sent in underclassmen layouts!" reminded Dennis.

Thus, to spare us of more guilt - we present to you, the OOPS!! page.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Hi! One more year has been over. The days are passing so quickly that we're not able to do anything to stop it. I still can remember the 23rd of August, my arrival to the Logan Airport. Everything was fine till I met my art teacher, Mr. Owens. He was talking to me so fast that, I was saying either yes and no, or smiling at whatever he said. But now, after 1 year, I am able to understand nearly everybody.

The reason that I wanted to be an exchange student was, it is very exciting for me to know about a new, different culture and people.

Being an exchange student means many things. It means taking responsibilities, taking care of one's self, to make decisions, sometimes very hard, and to represent her or his own country well. But the most important duty the exchange students have is to, in some small way contribute to future world peace.

During my stay here, I have learned all those things. I've gone to so many places and met so many people. Although this 1 year has passed so quickly, I hope I could come back one day and experience these things from the beginning.

"She is a great clown" - "We like you" - Things that I usually only hear from my best friends in Germany (if there are any) but now I hear them here and it makes me feel at home. After a very hard start in Connecticut my stay in the United States turned out to be the greatest thing I've experienced so far and it continues to get better and greater from day to day. All the friends I've made and the people I've met here I'll never forget. Things like ALG, Drama, and other special school activities helped me a lot to integrate myself. I am on the Cape since September and I already can say that I will come back as soon as possible, because I really started to love this place.

There is only one thing left to say:

Everybody should have the chance to be an exchange student. You learn so much and you really have the chance to do something with your life afterwards. I learned to solve my problems that occur when you are a stranger, with the feelings of "Love, Peace, and Grooviness" Thanks for this year - I love you all.

Giddy, the year has ended for me, but Cape Cod and America will stay in my memory forever. I hope to come back here in the future. I found that the Americans and especially the Nauset kids are extremely friendly. They made me feel very welcome. However, I sometimes wondered if the students here know what invitation means. I met and got to know one of the most wonderful girls in this school.

I come from Greymouth, a town which belongs to the region called westland in New Zealand. New Zealand is one of the most beautiful countries in the world, and I hope one day you will visit. If you do just drop in or give me a call.

Hey guys, "Kiwi Magic will live forever", and we might see you down there racing with us for the America's Cup.

Hi everyone! I want to say that I really enjoyed this year. I think that the kids at Nauset are all very cool. I really hope to see you all again - here or in Spain. Love Always.

It's wonderful to realize that even if you are far away from home and far away from a city, you find your way around easily out here, you meet so many people, and you learn so many things. This experience is a fantastic one and I am enjoying it very much. Nauset is a good school and the kids are very fortunate to have such good facilities. And I am very fortunate to live here with a host family such as Tom, Joyce, and Tammy Pellegrino whom I love, and a few good friends that I love also.

YEARBOOK EDITORS

After slaving long, laborious hours in room A210 - night after night - functioning on sleepless nights - eating microwave popcorn and diet coke - ordering out gross, chinese junkfood suddenly we realized, we too, were engaging in Nauset gossip, a sure sign of frustration - we also noticed that our language was becoming increasingly perverse - nonetheless we survived! And to Dave, uh, MR. Donahue, our faithful yearbook advisor, thank you for lowering your high standards of excellence to put up with our constant whining and juvenile mentalities - not to mention everything else ... and despite your slightly demented frame of mind (most likely our doing), we still think you're the (Well, you know what we mean). And now, we, the Yearbook Editors, have emerged from the gutter to present to our Nauset Pals, the 1987 Nauset Tides Yearbook.
